

Conference: Scottish Futures Trust and Infrastructure Investment: how does it work, what's changed and what's coming next?

17th November 2008, Hilton Grosvenor Hotel, Edinburgh

Our Supporters

D&W
DUNDAS & WILSON

The Scottish Futures Trust 'designed to support the efficiency and effectiveness of public infrastructure procurement' and deliver 'real and improved value for money solutions' [Taking forward the Scottish Futures Trust, The Scottish Government] is the Scottish Government's proposal to improve infrastructure financing. A finance initiative born out of the new funding relationship between Scotland's central and local government, the Scottish Futures Trust promises savings, NPD structures, better value and greater efficiency.

This one day conference is a must for anyone involved in public sector procurement and finance in Scotland. Discuss, debate, decode and discern the Scottish Futures Trust and the future for infrastructural investment in Scotland.

Keynote: John Swinney, Cabinet Secretary for Finance and Sustainable Growth

Other speakers:

Sir Angus Grossart, Chair, Scottish Futures Trust

Russell Ellerby, Assistant Chief Executive, North Lanarkshire Council

Claire Phillips, Project Director Scotland, Partnerships UK

David Gavaghan, Chief Executive, Strategic Investment Board Northern Ireland

Amanda Methven, Partner, Dundas & Wilson

MACKAY
HANNAH POLICY

For more information contact: T: 0131 556 1500 F: 0131 556 0005 E: mail@mackayhannah.com